IN THE SALISBURY CASE. Both Sides Willing to Have the Case Bropped - The Famous Bethel-Kneebs Ringing Case Bobs Up Buring the Mara. ing Session-Hornes C, Nelson and His Great Horse Retnetated Permanently-Many Cases Up for Inquiry Testerday Pearls of Wisdom from the Lips of Poter

Mance-Numerous Minor Cases Beetded The much-discussed Salisbury case came before the Board of Review of the Nationa Trotting Association at the Murray Hill Hote yesterday afternoon, and there was an absence of the fireworks that had been expected when the matter came up for a hearing. It has been rumored for some time past that both Monroe Salisbury and the management of the Driving Club of New York would only be too glad to let the thing drop, and no surprise was manifested when President McMillan of the Driving Club of New York and Judge Whitehead of counsel for Salisbury threw oratorical bouquets at each

The public know the case well. Monroe Salisbury, one of the most prominent, if not the most prominent, trotting horsemen in the country, was expelled by Judges Hughes, McMillan, and Titue at Fleetwood last September, because he did not appear with his mare Expressive when the 2:16 class was called, after a postponement of several days. Mr. Salisbury said that he had the permission of the judges to ship Expressive to Terre Haute, Ind., she had engagements. He appealed to the President of the National Trotting Association for temporary reinstatement and continued to trot. his horses throughout the West. There was a disposition to hold out the clive branch of peace, and it was generally understood that all of the parties concerned would appeal to the National Association to exercise clemency in the matter. Judgs Whitehead told all about Sailsbury, spoke of his digoity and fairness and the splendid record he had for honesty on the turf. The Judge then dropped to irony, and expressed the hope that the Board would not be too severe, if any mistake had been made by the Driving Club of

President McMillan expressed the belief that Mr. Salisbury had committed no wrong inten-tionally; he probably assumed too much. He begged that the Board would deal as leniently as possible with the California turfmen. It was beautiful to see the white dove shedding a benison upon the entire affair, and there were smiles and knowing looks when the case was concluded. President McMillan, who has been very ill, got into his great coat and went home, and Judge Whitehead mingled with the crowd and accepted the congratulations of his friends. There is no doubt the Board will permanently

There is no doubt the Board will permanently reinstate Mr. Salisbury.

The oft-heard case of Horace C. Nelson of Waterville, Me., and his stalilion Nelson, came upagain, and the down East horseman was permanently reinstated. The Board refused, however, to rainstate Aleryon and owner, Fred Noble of Grand Rapids, Mich. Nelson was shown to have been a catspaw in the hands of Noble, and the announcement that he has been reinstated to all the privileges formerly enjoyed by him will be received with much satisfaction. The race took place in 1889, and it has been dragging along through the trotting horse tribunals ever since.

The well-known case of Robert Kneeba, who was arrested in Germany last spring for ringing place in 1859, and it has been dragging along through the trotting horse tribunals ever since. The well-known case of Robert Kneebs, who was arrested in Germany last spring for ringing a mare called Nelly Kneebs, came before the Board in the morning through the medium of a letter from the authorities of the Berlin Trotting Association, asking them to examine into the case here. It was represented that Nelly Kneebs was the mare Hethel with a record of 2:16%. This was strennously denied by Kneebs at his examination in Berlin. He declared that Nelly Kneebs was a green mare. He swore, when brought before the Herlin authorities, that the mare Bethel was at his farm in lowa. Western men who say that they know the mare Hethel declare that she is not now in lowa, and it was charged in a Western newspaper that a mare of Bethel's color was mullated on the shoulder so as to make her look like Bethel, whose shoulder was torn by contact with a barbed wire fence. Nelly Kneebs beat Lord Byron, a stallion with a record of 2:10%, and then she went abroad and beat the best horse in Europe. The Berlin authorities propose to sift the matter to the bottom. A commissioner will undoubtedly be sent to Sioux City to examine the mare alleged to be Bethel. Western authorities say that the mare in Sioux City to examine the mare alleged to be Bethel. Western authorities say that the mare in Sioux City is in reality Clara Madison. This case is of international importance, and the entire trotting horse world will no doubt follow the progress of the investigation with marked interest. A most complicated case was that of the Detroit Driving Club against M. L. Hare, the well-known breeder of Indianapolis, Ind. The trottly fiving Club against M. L. Hare, the well-known breeder of Indianapolis, Ind. The trottly in the same and the second and search and manufacturers' Stake, and to be had, but that he would keep an eye on the matter and report if any opportunity afforded itself to get one. On July 30 M. L. Lewis of Circleville, O., gave up his nom port If any opportunity afforded itself to get one. On July 30 M. L. Lewis of Circleville, D. gave up his nomination for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stake, and on the same date Hare wired Campbell to secure the nomination for Graydon if possible. After sending this telegram Bob Stewart, who saw Graydon, the horse Hare wanted to start in the stake, and was so impressed with him that he offered to built a nomination he claimed to have for the race against the horse and divide the winnings. Believing that Stewart had a nomination, Hare wired Campbell that he did not want the Lewis nomination, and Stewart, who had no nomination, but believed that he could secure one, wired Campbell that he could secure one, wired Campbell to keep a nomination for Graydon. The transfer had been made and the book programme was in the hands of the printer before Hare's second communication on July 3 was received, and Hare and Stewart were held jointly for the $500. Graydon went lame and was not started in the stake, and the Detroit Driving Club started in to collect the money due it. They caught Stewart and took $250 of his winnings and had Hare suspended at Cleveland this year. President Campau of the Detroit Driving Club appeared for his organization, and asked for the payment of the $500, one-half of which will go to Stewart if he is not adjudged equally liable with the Indiana horseman. Judge Whitehead represented Mr. Hare, and submitted a lot of evidence tending to show that the Detroit Driving Club was grasping and avarictous in its dealings with horsemen. Mr. Campau, by the conditions of his stakes, claims that they had a right to dispose of its own nominations after they have been thrown upon their hands as they are if the of the orthory of the started defined to the orthory and Joseph

A. D. Maloney of Montreal, owner, and Joseph Martin of Prescott, Ontario, driver, of the geiding Gleawood Prince, alias A. B., must pay for a change of name before they can trut their horses on any of the tracks governed by the rules of the National Trotting Association.

The case of S. M. Van Allen of Jamaica and the geiding Res. 2:244, was continued to Chicago. Van Allen and the geiding were expelled at Rockville Centre last fall.

The Board granted the request of Dr. J. H. Carmichael of Springfield, Mass., who applied for the removal of suspension imposed at Mystie Park, July 13, 1894. Dr. Carmichael was suspended for foul driving in a race at that track.

for the removal of suspension imposed at Mystic Park, July 13, 1804. Dr. Carmichael was suspended for foul driving in a race at that track.

A. W. Smith of Danville, Ky., and the brown stallion Quinine S., alias George R., who were expelled at Danville on Soot. 22, 1814, had their case decided. Smith remains expelled, but the horse is to be reinstated upon the payment of the recording fee for change of name.

The Board decided during the morning that the unlawful winnings of the gray horse Rocket, formerly Monk Medium, controlled by Joseph Hawley, must be returned.

Wolfe & Morton, Philippiburg, Pa., accused of starting the pacer Major Wolfe out of his class, are fined $100 and suspended until they return the $500 which they won.

D. G. Bover and the chestnut gelding Peter, alias Roach Maine, who were caught at Orwigsburg, Pa., on a ringing tour, were expelled.

The evening session of the Board was rendered breezy in the extreme by the appearance of Peter Mainec, one of the characters of the trotting turf, who trained Lady Thorne away back in the sixtles. Mance first appeared to protest against the award of $500 to W. A. Walker of this city for the alleged discovery of the ringer Volunteer Prince at the Parkway meeting. Mance urged the Board not to pay Walker wood driver, was the real discoverer of Volunteer Prince at the Parkway meeting. Mance urged the Board, using the homely slimile that a man digging a well and failing to find water should go deeper. But Peter gave some advice to the Board, using the homely slimile that a man digging a well and failing to find water should go deeper. But Peter was at his very best when he was on the carpet for non-payment of entries at Carmel, this State. He told with many chuckles how he took five horses to tarmel and made a deal with Secretary Cole to start as often as is liked for $50. In calling over the horses he had at Carmel, Feter grew confidential and said:

There was Albert, he went in straight, and I. D. N., and I Rid (that was the gray horse I traded for, and he tune of $40 for the entrance money of some of your horses, and my brother remembers you for a $30 feed bill; oh, yes, we remember you."

"Now that feliow had $20 on my horse, and he lost it," broke in Manee. "He owns the track and the hotel, and he owns the town of Carmel, but he didn't own Petey, and that's why he's sore. I hadn't a cent in the box. If I had you can expel me." Then, after a short pause the siy old steeple climber added: "If you can prove It," in such an artiul fashion that Judge Whitehead was convuised. Like Tony Weller, Peter gave his son some sage advice, only that his text was, "Beware of the trotters," instead of the widows. It made his heart ache to see his son following in the footstep of his father. This sentiment was expressed as the old stager placed a perfect, handed to him by Mr. A. A. Honner, between his lips, and Peter solemnly assured the Board that there was no money in the racing of trotters any more, and that he merely followed it as a pieasure. Perhaps Mr. Cole will get the entrance money he maks for, but at any rais he has the thanks of all who were present at last night's session, as it was a real pleasure to hear Maner argue his own case.

Had Peter known it he might have cleverly turned the tables on Mr. Cole and the Carmel Association. The National Association sets its face hard against conditional entries, and had Manee known it he could have informed against them and obtained half the amount of the purse. There is a precedent, H. D. McKinney getting square with the Rockford, Ill., Association last winter at Chicago.

Ira Ryeson of Goshen and the gray gelding Taylorson, expelled May 10, 1800, were temporarily reinstated on the condition that Ryerson refurn the unlawful winnings and pay a recording fee for the change of name.

Pletcher Dudley, expelled in 1892 for ringing in Joe Davis, the old-time campaigner, under the mame of Isaac Newton, had his application for reinstatement granted temporarily.

S. B. Perk of Watkins, N. Y., applied for the release of himself and th refused.

Several other decisions in minor cases were handed down.

S. A. Boardman of North Berwick, Me., expelled in 1874, and who is now 70 years old, had his application for reinstatement considered favorably. Boardman's plea that he is now an old man and cannot live much longer had great weight with the Board.

A. H. Moore, the well-known horseman, owner of the Cloverdell Stock Farm in Pennsylvania, the famous trotting stallion Director, and some of the greatest brood mares in America, has had sixteen head of horses, which he intended to sell at auction next week, attached at Tatter salls' and the Boulevard Horse Exchange yesterday by the Sheriff on a claim of $6,000 entered by Davis, Collamore & Co., a Broadway

The claim is for china, glassware, and bric-a-brac furnished Moore during the past few years, Mr. Moore states that he had no idea he owed them any such sum and has commenced a counter suit against them for an itemized bill, but says he will allow the horses to be sold under the attachment. Among them are all of his recent Horse Show purchases, including Jole, the famous pony jumper, for which he paid $1,000, and others almost equally well known.

Talcott Wants Ward for Director.

Treasurer E. B. Talcott of the New York Club announced yesterday that he would like to have John M. Ward accept the position of man-aging director. Mr. Talcott also stated that he was anxious to retire from active work as a baseball magnate, and would sell his stock for fifty cents on the dollar. It was only a few days ago that the public were informed that Ward ago that the public were informed that Ward had not only resigned his position as manager and second baseman, but had also retired permanently from the game to enter a law office in this city. George lavis was also signed to captain and manage the New Yorks.

Treasurer Talcott's statement of yesterday, however, makes it apparent that Ward has not retired for good, but that he will still have something to do with the management of the club, if Ward accepts the position of director he will have access to the annual meetings of the National League as a delegate of the New York Club.

IVES'S GREAT BILLIARDS.

LEADS SCHARFER BY NEARLY EIGHT HUNDRED POINTS.

The "Young Napoleon" Winds Up Last Night's Piny With a Run of $51, the Highest of the Match Schnefer Runs 167, but His Work Senerally Is Indifferent. CHICAGO, Dec. 5 .- Although the playing o ives and Schaefer during the first two nights of their $5,000 match at Music Hall did not create any great amount of interest, the attendance to-night showed a slight improvement over that of last night. Ives had left the balls in fine position and resumed business in a determined manner, nursing carefully, and holding the spheres well together. He made 90 points before sitting down, which with the one scored last night gave him a lead of 677. While his play was not brilliant, it showed cool calculation and superb headwork. He fell down on a difficult massé, the balls being ranged in line on the rail.

He left them in almost as bad position for Schnefer, but the "Wizard" made a brilliant massé and counted amid tumultuous applause Jake's next two shots were beauties, masses and he settled down in earnest, scoring 43. His forty-first shot was a pretty bank, but he got only two more, missing any easy single-cushion shot. Ives knocked out 14, missing a hard draw. Schaefer scored only 16, and Ives, after making one pretty play, miscued. Three was the best chaefer could do in his third inning, miscalculating an easy draw. Ives followed with 100, his playing being simply perfection. As he passed the century mark he was warmly applauded. He went to his seat after missing s hard mases on the upper rail. Schnefer showed improved form in his fourth inning, and scored 55 by steady play. Several of his shots were brilliant draws and position plays, but the balls were hard to manage, and Jake couldn't keep them together long. He tried to make a left-handed draw on his fiftysixth shot, but missed. Ives rolled up 55, playing fine billiards all the time. It was manifest that he was in first-class form, and that the "Wizzard" would have to and that the Wizzari would have to do some unusually good work to gain on him. A delicate masse counted the forty-fourth shot, and his fifty-first was a pretty bank. He missed a hard cushion shot in the lower left-hand corner. Ives now had exactly twice as many points as his opponent, the score being 1,472 to cortier. Ives how and easily the score being 1,472 to 736.

In his fifth inning Schaefer began to show some of his old-time form. Several of his plays were of the pyrotechnic order, but he fell down on a kiss after scoring 61. Ives poked out 29 easy ones, and missed a masse by a narrow margin. Schaefer followed with 24, the bails persistently rolling away from him. Ives could only accumulate 5, and Schaefer duplicated the run. Ives then fell down after making 4. Schaefer's eighth inning was a beautiful exhibition of generalship in working the anchor nurse under the regulations adopted that only ten shots may be made while the bails are so placed. Not less than ten times in the first sixty shots were the balls "in anchor," being driven out and in with remarkable precision. As Jake made his one hundreth shot there was a atorm of applause, showing that the "Wizard" is still the popular favorite. At 112 he got the balls in anchor again. He wound up at 147, more than double his highest previous run. Ives got 2 and Jake made 8, missing a hard draw. Ives next effort resulted in only 4 points.

The next run of any consequence was also missing a hard draw, Ives's next effort resulted in only 4 points.

The next run of any consequence was also Schaefer's, and consisted of 37. A goose egg for Ives, and the "Wizard" was at it again. He pulled off 25. It was no use, for Ives made 281 the next time, running the game out. This beat the highest run of the tournament, 167, made by Ives, and brought forth wild applause. It was by no means plain sailing all the way, and several of the shots were brilliantly executed, notably a pair of brilliant massés. The bails were left in good position for to-morrow night. The acore:

Gallagher Leads Fourall, Both Gallagher and Fournil played good billiards in the third night's play of their cushion-carrom match at Daly's last night. Gallagher's exhibition was exceptionally fine, and, with the exception of one inn liards of the match. The Frenchman kept at nurse play, and most of his double-figure runs were the result of that style of billiards.

Gallagher awared 154 to Fournil's 101, placing him 49 points ahead. The high runs were Gallagher—37, 20, 20, 10, 18, 10; average, 77-21. Fournil's high runs were: 20, 24, 15, 16; average, 41-24. The total score for three nights play is: Gallagher, 500; Fournil, 451.

EASTERN LEAGUE MEN MEET. Three Vacancies in the Circuit to Fill and Many Applicants.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel was an attractive place for many noted baseball men yesterday, as the Eastern League magnates held their annual meeting there. The scramble for the three what they call proof that he was not registered as the compromise. Lower what they call proof that he was not registered as the compromise. Lower vacancies in the circuit was quite lively, and while the club men were talking matters over in parlor F the applicants for franchises were glaring jealously at one another in the corridors outside. With Erie ready to withdraw, Scranton's retirement by the rules of the constitution, and the disbandment of the Yonkers club, the and the disbandment of the Yonkers ciub, the work of the Circuit Committee to fill these vacancies is attended with no end of wirepulling. Toronto sent on two local men—W. J. Smith, the owner of the ball grounds there, and Charles Maddock, his ground keeper—to secure a franchise. But A. C. Buckenberger and Al De Roy of Pittsburgh are also in the field for the same plum. They may combine forces by to-day, and make their application doubly stronger. Rochester is represented by C. A. Leimgruber and Charles Englert. Reading's application is in the hands of Ben Zerr, while Jim O'Rourke, formerly of the New Yorks, is on the ground representing Bridgeport. Parties from Newark will be on hand to-day to make a hard fight for their city. President Powers holds a request from Fail River to be heard in the same atrain, but that city, it is thought, has little or no chance. According to one of the delegates the following circuit may meet with favor: Toronto, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Wilkesbarre, Newark, Providence, and Springfield.

The Board of Directors met at 10 o'clock. There were present: James Franklin of Buffalo, C. T. Sheehan of Sprinfigeld, E. F. Hogert of Wilkesbarre, C. H. Morton of Erie, and P. T. Powers. The Scranton Club's case was taken up and referred to the Eastern League for disposal. The championship was awarded to the Providence Club, and the official standing was announced as follows: Providence, syracuse, Erie, Springfield, Buffalo, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Allentown, Yonkers.

A letter of complaint was received from "Long John" Healy of the Erie club, to the effect that he had not received his salary in full. The Board ruled that he was entitled to his release. The League convened at 3 o'clock. C. H. Byrne of the National Board was called in to explain the method of transferring franchises and players under reserve. He did so in the presence of the following delegates: Buffalo, James Franklin: Providence, W. H. Draper and E. A. Johnson: Wilkesbarre, E. F. Rogert and F. W. Long: Springfield, C. T. That he did work for the best justerests of the club and the National Leagus up to that date. He further states that he was un no way, directly or indirectly, connected with an organization called "The American Association" or any other while in the service and employ as a club member of the K. Van Duzer of the University Athletic Club's football committee issued his financial report yesterday of the receipts and expenditures of the Yale-Princeton game. It will be noticed, however, that the statement gives as the receipts for last year $39,439.12. and that this year's receipts are $5,894.50 less. This would make the receipts of Saturday's urer Van Duzer's figures, the receipts amount to $33,468. Each college will receive $12,104.58. The difference in the receipts is due to the fact that there were fewer admission tickets sold, and the numbered seats on the open stands accommodated less people than in 1893. Here are the

BROOKLYN HIGH SCHOOL MAY LOSE The Inter-Scholastic Athletic League Champlouship at Football,

The Brooklyn High School eleven are in danger of losing the Long Island Inter-Scholastic Athletic League championship. To all purposes they won the championship by defeating the St. Paul's School boys on Nov. 17, but the latter now announce their intention of protesting that game. They claim that Weymouth, who played on the High School eleven, did not attend the been a member of the High School, but left it last year, and the Garden City players have what they call proof that he was not registered at the High School until Nov.21, four days after the High School st. Paul game was decided.

Manager Eckley of the St. Paul's team was at the High School yesterday, and obtained a paper stating this fact, signed by Principal McAllister. The High School boys were surprised to hear that their principal had signed such a paper. They say that Waymouth had been around the High School for a month previous to the St. Paul's game, and wanted to play. Manager Harding went to Principal McAllister to find out whether Weymouth was a regular student at the High School, and was assured by the principal, so it is stated, that he could "consider Weymouth was allowed to play on the team.

The St. Paul's boys will send their protest to the Secretary of the League, and will try to have the game thrown out. In this case it would have to be played over. A meeting of the League will be held to-morrow, and the matter will probably be settled then.

Wyckof Will Captain Cornell's '95 Foot-ball Team.

ITHACA, Dec. 5 .- At a meeting to-day of Cornell's football team Clinton Randall Wyckoff, quarter back of this year's eleven, was elected captain of next year's team. Wyckoff's work at quarter back was very fine this season, and he gave the signals in all the big games. While this was bis first year on the Cornell eleven, it was deemed advisable to intrust him with the captaincy in 1895. The selection is heartily approved by the student body, as Wyckoff is very popular. He played in every game this season and, although hurt a number of times, never left the field. Wyckoff halls from Elmira.

ICE YACHTSMEN ARE BUSY. A Lively Season of Rucing Is Expected on

Orange Lake. NEWBURGH, Dec. 5,-The Orange Lake Ice Yacht Club raised the ball last night and are prepared for the winter's sport. They elected H. C. Higginson, Commodore: Dr. Willett Kidd, Vice-Commodore; Albert N. Chambers, Secretary and Treasurer. Dr. Willett Kidd, Frank G. Wood, George Heggs, and B. B. Moore are the Regatta Committee. The ice on the lake is nearly four inches thick and smooth as glass. To-day rachts were put upon it for the first time.

To-day yachts were put upon time.

The races and trophies have been arranged for the season. All the boats have been improved since last year. The Higginson, Harper Kidd, and Van Nostrand cups and pennants will be competed for as before, and there will be a number of extra races. Besides this sport the National Skating Association speed races will take place this winter on Orange Lake. A new trolley road now runs from the city to the lake, and thousands can be carried there in a short time. time.

The local skaters are getting in trim, and one of them. James F. Bonoghue, the younger brother to Champion Joe, expects to show his heels to the best in the country this winter.

DUNRAVEN'S CHALLENGE.

HIS AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE THINKS IT IS CONDITIONAL.

It is Expected That the New Challenger Will

Be a Ninety-feeter, No as to Allow for Any Future Changes - A Syndiente Formed Here to Build a Cup Befender, While ex-Commodore James D. Smith, Chairman of the America's Cup Committee, was not at his Broad street office yesterday, it was given out there that a cablegram from either Secretary Grant of the Royal Yacht Squadron or the Earl of Dunraven, announcing that a challenge had been sent, had been received late on Monday evening, and that the steamer bearing the forms challenge would be here some time next week The other members of the America's Cup Committee did not know anything in regard to the matter.

H. Maitland Kersey, who represents the Earl of Dunraven on this side of the water, was found by THE SUN reporter in his office at 20 Broadway yesterday afternoon. When asked if he had heard that a cable despatch had been sent to the Cup Committee by Lord Dunraven, he said: "No. I think if one is coming it is a conditional challenge, the condition being that the third clause in the Royal Yacht Squadron's challenge in 1892 be inserted in the present one. The clause referred to reads as follows:

"It is understood and agreed that should the cup com into the custody of the British yacht club, it shall be held subject to challenge under precisely similar terms as these contained in this challenge, provide always that such club shall not refuse any challeng according to the conditions laid down in the dead of

there will be much trouble about that, but still you can't always tell. The Cup Committee have so far acted in a fair and sportsmanlike way, and I have no doubt they will consider Lord Dunraven's and the Yacht Squadron's views in Dunraven's and the Yacht Squadron's views in the matter in an equally fair spirit. I can't see why the New York Yacht Club should object to this, as in case the cup should be won it would be far easier for the club to get it back again under the conditions asked for by Lord Punraven than it would under those of the New Deed of Gift."

When asked if the delay in sending the chal-

When asked if the delay in sending the challenge would not hamper our yachtsmen somewhat, he answered:

"I don't see why it should. The Herreshoffs have probably drafted out a boat long before this, and are only waiting for the receipt of the challenge, giving her water line, to lay her down. She ought surely to be ready for launching in April and for her trial spin in May. This being the case, you see they would have four months to get her in trim, which I should think was ample time to get any boat in shape."

When asked what sort of boat Lord Dunraven would send over this time he laughed and said:
"I am sure I don't know. Some time ago I thought a 70-footer would be sent; now, however, I think she will be built right up to the 90-foot limit, or, to be more exact, probably 89 feet on the water line, so as to allow for any future changes in her ballast or trim. She will be built for the sole purpose of winning the America's Cup, irrespective of her performances on the other side. She will be brought over here some two months before the race, so as to be well tuned up for the contest."

"Will she be raced here before the cup struggle?"

"I don't know whether she will or not. At

"Will she be raced here before the cup struggle?"
"I don't know whether she will or not. At any rate, she will be sailed around the lower bay and Sandy Hook until her designer and Captain are satisfied with her work."
It was learned on good authority yesterday that a syndicate has been practically formed, or rather certain men have agreed to build a cup defender, and the Herreshoffs are to design and build her. This association or syndicate of yachtsmen is said to be composed of almost the same men who built the Vigilant, including Commodore E. D. Morgan, the Iselins, Belmonts, George Gould, and Vice-Commodore E. M. Brown.

ON THE BRITANNIA'S LINES.

The New Cup Challenger May be Built tha Way by Dealgner Watson. Boston, Dec. 5 .- The Globe's Glasgow yachting correspondent writes under date of Nov. 22, as follows: "Our yachting papers are busy guessing out the variations in building in which the new challenger will differ from the Britannia and Valkyrie, but none of the prophets are likely to guess the truth.

"The success of the Britannia assures us that Mr. Watson will not lose sight of her good points. The best of these are turning to windward and coming round in stays faster than the Vigilant.

"It may be taken for granted that the new challenger will be another Britannia, cautiously improved, and probably in the direction of smaller displacement and greater power. Mr. Watson has, of course, to reckon with the fact that in a breeze the Vigilant is better than the Britannia, a fact admitted by the Field. But whether be will rely on beam or lower lead for stiffening. lead means greater draught and more wette surface, and this is another argument in favo of beam.

lead means greater draught and more wetted surface, and this is another argument in favor of beam.

"There is a fond hope here that the Vigilant must have about exhausted the Herreshoff designs, but that remains to be seen. Herreshoff is Dakotah, last summer the terror of the Clyde, is for sale, Mr. Henry Allen, her owner, having shifted his affections to the one-rater class.

"This new class is to be the Clyde fad for the summer of 1895, and the rumor is that, whatever he may order on the Clyde, Mr. Allen will probably import a Herreshoff one-rater, and wips out that Clyde class as he did with the Wenonah and Dakotah in their classes.

"The news that Mr. Howard Gould has ordered a 20-rater from the Herreshoffs, to race in English waters, threatens dismay to that British class, and will make those owners who have sold their 20-raters feel comfortable. Since the Emperor of Germany is having a racing 20-rater built at Kiel from Mr. Watson's designs, the new Herreshoff may be prevented from contests on the German coast under some pretext.

"In your present commercial squabbles with German tariffs the building of small raters in the Clyde will give a busy burst of work, much meeded here. A class similar to the Dublin Mermaids has been constructed at Helensburg for racing, and seven boats have been ordered. The Thames designer, Mr. Linton Hope, is to be the designer of the class, and the model is a modified replica of his champion sorcerss. This means the beam will be about half the length. The Clyde Mermaids are over all 18 fest, beam 7 feet, draught of hull 10 inches, with centreplate lowered a feet, with 275 square feet of canvas. These boats are decked, except a large cockpit, and are to be sailed by three amateurs without ballast.

A CHALLENGE 18 ON THE WAY.

A CHALLENGE IS ON THE WAY. Lard Dunraves Announced the Fact Yester

LONDON, Dec. 5 .- The fact is officially made known to-day for the first time that a challengo has been sent for the America's Cup. Lord Dunraven himself makes the statement, and writes raven nimself makes the statement, and writes to the United Press that the challenge has been forwarded. All previous reports touching the subject have been mere guess work, as nothing official has hitherto been given out. Lord lung-raves adds that no details regarding the word-ing of the challenge will be made known by him until he receives the reply of the New York Yacht Club.

No Cup Befender Ordered, Says Herreshoff. Baiston, R. I., Dec. 5,-The report that the Herreshoffs had received an order for a cup defender, to be built in the event of the acceptance of Lord Dunraven's challenge, was denied by John Herreshoff. He said that no order had been placed, even conditionally, and that there been placed, even conditionally, and that there had been no talk of a large racing yacht since last spring, when James Gordon Hennett talked of building.

In the shops, the frames of the 20-rater for Howard Gould are bent on the moulds, and the yacht will soon be set up in the south shop. The 20-rater for parties in Germany will be a duplicate of the Gould yacht. The 30-fnoter for theory of Boston is in the north shop, and is nearly planked.

BOWLERS HARD AT WORK.

Steresting Cames Rolled Last Night in the Leading Tournamente, Three interesting games were rolled in the American Sational tournament at the Germania Assembly tooms alleys last night. The contesting teams were from the Spartan and Owl clubs of this city and the Apollos of Brooklyn. The chief interest was centred in the game between the Apollos and Spartans. The fact that these two rivals would meet drew an unu sually large crowd of bowling men to the alleys. The Brooklynites started out with a lead of two pins, which they gradually increased. They eventually won by fifty four pins. The Spartans took a decided brace in the second game, and as a result the Owl
